

Dr. Irina Tochitskaya has more than 20 years of research and management experience. Irina earned her Ph.D. Degree in Macroeconomics and M.Sc. Degree in Statistics. Her professional interests include trade policy, innovation and growth, energy sector development, enterprise development, applied econometrics.

Irina began her career as a research fellow at the Institute of Economics of the National Academy of Sciences of Belarus. In 1996 she took the position of Chief Specialist at the Joint Stock Bank “Belarusbank”, Minsk, where she was responsible for investment, money – flow, operation – cost analysis. In 1999-2000 she was awarded the fellowship of the Kennan Institute of the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars (Washington DC), then she spent five months as a Visiting Faculty at the Department of Economics at the Central European University (Budapest, Hungary). Since 2003 Irina has been working as a Deputy Director of the IPM Research Center (Minsk, Belarus).

She has experience in project management at national and international levels, and specifically she is the Director of the project German Economic Team in Belarus, supported by the Federal Ministry of Economics and Technology of Germany. As a Team Leader and Senior Expert she has participated in numerous projects supported by the European Commission, the Ministry of Economic Development and Trade of Russia, the Eurasian Development Bank, the Economics Education and Research Consortium (EERC), UNDP. Irina has more than 40 scientific publications including one book and chapters in 3 books.