

India EU Relationship

- India and EU are Strategic Partners
- Both sides are keen to strengthen the economic relationship
- Poland and India have the potential to exploit the relative advantages
- The historical ties between our countries are a strong basis for strengthening our trade ties

POSSIBILITIES

- Poland has a well developed manufacturing base which is being seen by Indian investors as a key advantage for servicing the EU markets.
- Polish industry can look at the possibilities of sourcing intermediates for final finishing in Poland for supply to the EU market.
- Competitive edge of India and Poland arises from the complementary production structures on either side.
- Poland can be the gateway to EU for Indian intermediates as well as finished products

- There are huge possibilities in the services sector where we are large exporters as well as importers.
- Poland could provide services in the infrastructure sectors such as mining, shipbuilding etc.
